IRC
International Rubber
Conference
www.irc2018.com

The International Rubber Conference Organisation (IRCO) is an association of rubber societies worldwide which plan the calendar for the main international rubber conferences.

Through comprehensive monitoring, the IRCO ensures that all conferences managed by its member societies meet the stringent requirements dictated by the IRCO to deliver first-class conferences.

CONFERENCE

The International Rubber Conference 2018 (IRC 2018) "Transforming Technology, Driving Innovation" will be expecting 200 papers to be presented on topics highly relevant to the rubber industry in general.

NATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON POLYMERIC MATERIALS (NSPM) 2018

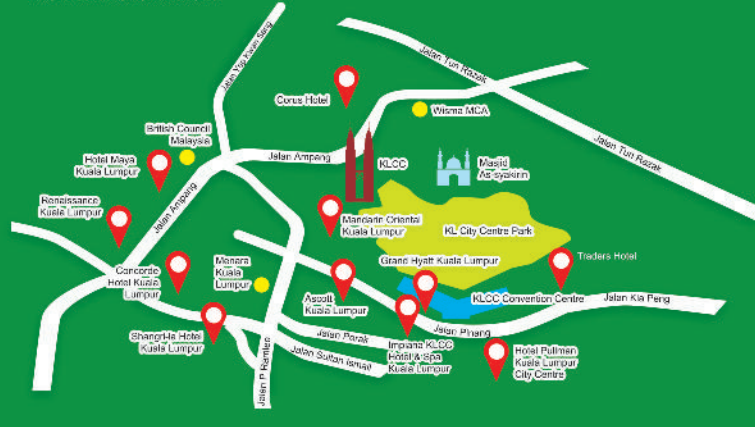

As part of the IRC 2018, the National Symposium on Polymeric Materials (NSPM) 2018 is an ideal platform for academics, researchers, scientist, engineers, industrialist and post-graduate students to share their ideas and experiments in polymer research as well as for networking.

The NSPM is an effective meeting point to initiate collaboration between researchers and scientist with professionals from the industry. Commercialization of research findings is very crucial and this can be materialized through NSPM.
